Where Climate Commitments Become Capital

Why Become an Associate?

GCFC is a selective platform for institutions shaping the future of climate finance.

Associates join a trusted network advancing catalytic capital flows and building the institutional pathways for climate investment. They gain structured opportunities to shape technical initiatives and engage in cross-sector dialogues that strengthen enabling conditions and reinforce the ecosystem for climate capital - particularly in emerging and frontier markets.

GCFC structures Associate participation around three pillars that define our approach to advancing climate capital flows:

● Policy & Market Design

- Shape investment-enabling policies and regulatory frameworks in the UAE and globally.
- Contribute to best-practice recommendations, technical guidance, and flagship reports.
- Influence institutional coordination to accelerate capital deployment.

● Capacity & Training

- Access tailored executive programmes such as the Climate Investment Training Programme (with NYU Stern, ADGM Academy, TIL).
- Strengthen institutional capabilities in climate finance, risk management, and investment strategy.
- Benefit from peer-learning and skill-building alongside leading global institutions.

● Capital Mobilization & Engagement

- Participate in GCFC-led platforms and high-level dialogues (e.g., Abu Dhabi Sustainability Week, UAE Water Conference, Africa Green Investment Initiative).
- Join system-level investor roundtables connecting policymakers, DFIs, and private capital.
- Gain visibility, networking, and exclusive insights through briefings, newsletters, and a trusted climate finance community.

Contribution Tiers

GCFC offers a structured model of Associate participation, aligned with programme priorities and each institution's level of engagement. Contribution tiers unlock tailored opportunities for visibility, strategic input, and global recognition.
